political turmoil.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. jet fighter planes operating over Laos were reported today to have orders to fire on Communist military installations when necessary to protect unarmed photo reconnaissance aircraft.

Two U.S. planes have been shot down in two days by ground fire from Communist forces. Officials here said their reports indicated this was fire from automatic anti-aircraft guns and perhaps heavy machine-guns.

The operation of the armed excort jets over Communist-held areas of Laos indicates that the U.S. is becoming more deeply involved in the conflict there in its efforts to give assistance to the neutralist government of Premier Souvanna Phouma.

There was a moment in Saturday's festive pageantry and ceremonial pomp honoring the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) which cut the heart with sorrow.

It burst like a shell into the splendid clock-work civic cere-mony bestowing freedom of the city on the regiment in a gaily decorated Bastion Square crowded with dignitaries, incrowded with dignitaries, invited guests, spectators and colorfully garbed soldlers.

Facing the kilted ranks, their honorary colonel Frank tions to the proposed govern-ment-sponsored Bank of British Columbia which were raised by this newspaper as well as by a number of thoughtful businessmen in the province are now being raised in the Senate.

The private bill seeking a charter for the bank will move through second reading but a number of Senators made it clear this was being allowed only to provide for fuller study of the bill in the Senate's banking committee and that the move did not imply the usual approval in principle, Senator A. K. Hugessen summed up the growing opposition to the bill when he stated the opinion that "banking and polities don't mix," while Senator Gunnar Thorvaldson went further and expressed the belief that establishment of a bank controlled by a provincial government would be unconstitutional.

Premier Bennett has already stated that failure of the Senate to approve the bill would be taken as a serious affront to this province and the implication is that refusal would be tantamount to denying the people of British Columbia the right to handle the financing of their own business and industry.

This, however, is simply a smokescreen since the Senate has already shown that it was receptive to the chartering of new banks pro-vided they measured up to certain stampeded into hasty action.

DRECISELY THE SAME OBJEC- standards. And one of the standards, quite properly, is that banks must be free of political influence.

One of the prime questions which will be asked in committee is where effective control of the bank will be vested. All the evidence so far is that it will be vested in the provincial government through ownership of up to 25 per cent of the shares. While this is not in itself sufficient to guarantee control, the plan for distribution of the balance of the shares, as it has been outlined by the premier, is designed to separate the balance of the ownership into small blocks with wide distribution in order that no other single individual or group would gain control. In addition, the government as the new bank's largest customer, could exert further influence on policy.

Quite apart from the technical aspects of share ownership and despite the appointment by Mr. Bennett of interim bank directors, it is the government which has been announcing plans and policies for the new bank right from the start.

It is certainly not surprising, in view of this, that a growing number of Senators are expressing doubts about the propriety and the con-stitutionality of the Bank of British Columbia. They have decided that the sponsoring bill deserves the closest attention in committee and

It support him with council members will be necessary to replace him of like mind and abilities. fornia's transformation into a solid Democratic state. Such is the clear logic of the result there.

In these matters, however, logic too seldom prevails. For the short run, in fact, the effect of the California vote is to put the Goldwater forces within shooting distance of nailing down the nomination before the San Francisco nomination before the San Francisco convention even assembles.

There are two reasons for this. Pre-California, in the first place, a very considerable number of Goldwater delegates, even including some in the South, had begun to think about desting from their bard's cuts. to a point where 1962 registered the highest production on record. Now the peak has passed and only clining—is brought into sharp focus careful conservation methods, in-by the commission's emergency cluding closure of grounds, carries hope of recovery.

The situation here is one of direct concern to halibut fisherwere making all sorts of signals, perbic were making all sorts of sagnata, particularly in the direction of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania. Post-California, however, the doubters will find defection very difficult.

Raw Tactics

Secondly, California further compil-cates the problem of the curious com-position of most of the uncommitted delegations, like those from Ohlo, New Jersey and Wisconsin. In all these states, the Goldwater backers employed much the same tactics, with varying degrees of rawness. degrees of rawness.

The most important tactic was to send large contributors to the local Republican leaders and money-raisers—like Webster Todd in New Jersey, to name one. The contributors simulthreatened not to give a red cent to the party if Goldwater were not given a "good break" in the competition of the state delegation a "good break" in the compensation the state delegation.

Thus, at least two delegates from New Jersey, eight and perhaps 10 from Ohio and as many as half the delegates from Wisconsin are really Goldwateritea. They have been included in these transibly uncommitted delegations to ostensibly uncommitted delegations to keep the peace in the state organiza-tions. These delegates and others like them in other state delegations are the much more likely, post-California, to make an open break for Goldwater in the hope of starting a bandwagon.

Unless It Changes

For these and other reasons, all the short-run advantages are on Senator Goldwater's side. Yet, six weeks must elapse before the San Francisco convention. This is a good deal of time, and the logic inherent in the California voting pattern may therefore prevail in the long run.

If this logic does prevail, it must be

If this logic does prevail, it must be added, its power will not come from the general expectation that Goldwater will be swamped in a contest for the Presidency with Lyndon Johnson. The local Republicans who so much fear a Goldwater nomination do not fear it because they fear President Johnson's re-election ion.

Instead, they fear a Goldwater nomination because they fear its effects on themselves and their friends in their state parties. Republican members of state legislatures, candidates for Congress, senatorial hopefuls and aspirants of the government of the state governments. to state governorships are all directly threatened by Goldwater. For his name at the head of the Republican ticket will automatically alienate up to a third of the basic Republican vote.

Short-Run Advantages

Maybe the American political clisummer, because of a Vletnamese disaster, for instance, or a near-outbreak of race-war at home. But barring such of race-war at home. But barring such a change, it is clear that Senator Gold-water's nomination will have the same effect on the Republican Party throughout the United States that the right-to-work law had in Ohio in 1958.

In that year, the practical Ohio Republicans, like the wily state chairman, Ray Bliss, were shouted down by the same Ohio Republicans who are now cheering for Goldwater. The result was an unparalleled, wholly needless Republican disaster in Ohio, including the overwhelming defeat of cluding the overwhelming defeat of the supposedly unbeatable Sen. John Bricker. Practical Republicans every-where now have the same problem that Ray Bliss had in 1958 in Ohio, Copyright (c) 1964, The Washington Post Co.

An Escape From Vietnam

T is fair enough to say, as Sen. Everett Dirksen did last week, that our policy in Southeast Asia has been indecisive. Indeed, it, has been.

The reason for this indecision, which has existed under three presidents — Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson—is not that all three Presidents have been weak and wavering men. It is that since we allowed to become entangled in Southeast Lippmann there has been no good solution available which any of the three Presidents felt he could be decisive about.

After the French were defeated in 1954, American's cardinal mistake in Southeast Asia was the decision of Secretary John Foster Dulles to treat South Vietnam, which is an artificial creation and not really a national state at all, as an American protectorate and as an outpost of the West.

The Eisenhower administration, directed in this matter by Secretary Dulles, did not oppose, but it refused to support the settlement of Vietnam which was worked out at the first Gen-eva conference in 1954. The United States government helped to pick Diem as chief of South Vietnam, and, until the coup of last autumn, Diem and his family were supported by us as the rulers of South Vietnam, and they became the chients of the United States.

This put us in an inherently unten able position. It committed the United States to a struggle on the land and in the jungle near the frontiers of the largest nation in Asia. In spite of the endless official assurances of how the struggle was being won, there has never been a time when a military victory, or anything like a military victory, has een possible.

No Acceptable Prospect

Even if one of the Presidents had been willing to intervene with an Ameri-can Army on the scale of Korea, even if he had unleased the Air Force, no acceptable or tolerable outcome was visible. able or tolerable outcome was visible. For once the American troops were engaged, there would be no way of withdrawing. The territory they had occupied would be reoccupied by the Asian multitude who would be more fiercely determined them. determined than ever to do away with the presence of the Western white man.

There has never been any other way out of the dead-end street in Southeast Asia except to make a political agree-ment, to construct international machin-ery and to exert what influence we can underwriting them. President Kendy made a fragmentary attempt to do this. He tried it in Laos, but he allowed himself to remain entangled in South Vietnam, and he was drawn into an ever enlarging, continually unsuccessful military struggle which has no visible

To those who think, as I do, that the military commitment in Southeast Asia has been a mistake, the question now is how to discharge the commitment honorably and to disengage safely. The basic principle is, I think, quite clear. We must look for a solution, not by expanding the war, but by taking it to the conference table, whether to a reconvened Geneva conference or to the United Nations, or both. United Nations, or both.

The proposal to expand the war by bombing North Vietnam and China re-quires, if we stop pretending that the South Vietnam pilots are capable of carrying out such an attack, a declara-tion of war against North Vietnam and China by the Congress of the United States. We cannot make war on North Vietnam by executive order.

No man living can possibly know what such a war would precipitate or what the Soviet Union would do, since it is still the ally of China. But what we can be sure of is that to go to war with China about South Vietnam would be so reckless an act as to damage deeply our influence throughout the world. It would be no less unpopular in the United

It is not easy for any country to re pair its mistakes, especially those in which it has invested lives, money and moral judgements. But the original mis-take in Southeast Asia has to be re-

The way to do this is to go to a co ference. The chances of its being successful are not brilliant, but at least we shall not be alone. Even if the prospects of a conference are not brilliant, the military outlook in South Viet Nam is dismal beyond words.

I have been asked whether a negotiated settlement for Southeast Asiameans that, as soon as our troops are means that, as soon as our troops are withdrawn from Saigon, the North Vietnamese and the Chinese will move in. The honest answer to this question is, I believe, that if this can be prevented for a few years there will be a chance that it will not happen at all.

Although I realize that in the long run Southeast Asia is bound to lie within the Chinese sphere of influence—as Chiang Kai-Shek has always insisted—I think it may be possible to prevent any sudden and overt occupation of South-east Asia. It may be feasible to make it too dangerous and not worthwhile in comparison with the prospects of access to the economic resources of Southeast Asia and beyond.

I think, moreover, that if an international structure can be created, one which is guaranteed by the Soviet Union, the United States, France, Great Britain and China, North Vietnam will tend to go Titoist; that is to say to remain Communist, but not Chinese. What will do most for our real interests in South-east Asia is not to bomb Hanoi, but to create a visible guarantee which makes it safe for Hanoi not to be, as it has always striven not to be, a Chinese

A Musical City

In recent weeks the musical write-ups in the Times have again proved that Victoria is an outstanding musical city.

In early spring the annual 10 days' Vic-toria Musical Festival was one of the biggest and most successful in its history. The opening ceremony was performed by the Provincial Deputy Secretary, which lent prestige to the event. Then soon after a High School student band travelled to the mainland and took part in a festival and returned home with a trophy. Then again another High School student band travelled across the border on a goodwill visit, and finally five High School students qualified through an audition from coast to coast and were selected to take a summer training course in Toronto, followed up with a tour of eastern Canada as members of the Canadian National Youth Symphony Orchestra, consisting of 93 members under the Toronto Symphony conductor, Walter

A Merchant Marine for Canada

About 18 years ago we Canadians owned and operated 172 freighters car-tying the Canadian Ensign on most deepwater routes of the world. This fleet employed about 7,000 seafarers, plus many more people on shore and gave much work to our shipyards.

Today we have none of these ships and have built none to take their places. Our own cargoes are leaving every day aboard foreign flag ships while the 7,000 seafarers and others watch and lament.

There are a number of reasons for this ridiculous situation. Some foreign seamen get wages that are even less than one-sixteenth of our Canadian pay scale. The manning scales under many flags are considerably less. Restrictions on fire equipment, etc., are less strict on fire equipment, etc., are less strict than under Canadian registry. And tax is less also under some flags.

We, the Canadian seamen, are not reaponsible for these facts. We are helpless and cannot compete with a Chinese able seaman who can be hired for a wage of $25 per month. And hundreds of ships are hiring them including such big British lines as the Blue Funnel. Glen and Shire, Silver, etc.

But even though faced with this stiff But even though faced with this stiff competition we defintiely should own and operate a sizable fleet of modern Moscow: Sevasto freighters, manned with Canadian citi-pol, adopted for aid zens, built and drydocked in Canada, purposes by Vic Each year our country experienced a toria, Canada, is net deficit of $100 million in marine shipping service to foreign-flag opera-

If our government can subsidize coal mines, railroads, ferry boats, the wheat farmer and $500 for building a house in the winter, then surely it can subsidize the building and operating of a modern Canadian mercantile marine. And in return for this subsidy many dollars would be saved in unemployment insurance alone, both to seafarers and shipyard workers alike. shipyard workers alike.

The subsidizing of merchant ships has been going on for well over a cen-

INSIDE POLITICS

With Douglas Fisher, M.P.

THE performance of a member of Parliament has an analogy with the iceberg. Most of it may be out of sight. Therefore, there is a superficiality in assessing merits of MPs on the basis of what another member sees them do. One cannot judge well what effort and skill another MP puts into his constituency or how strong his real influence is within the caucus or with ministers or with departmental officials.

Admitting these limits, let me single out the new Liberal backbenchers who have impressed me with their abilities. Some 90-odd Liberal MPs have been here less than three sessions. Fine predictions are made, when a host of new members are elected. The government party proclaims it has a feast of talent. Some of it gets immediate recognition with parliamentary secretary. THE performance of a member of Parliarecognition with parliamentary secretary-ships or ministries. The rest, as backbenchships or ministries. The rest, as backbenchers, scramble and battle to emerge as effective parliamentarians and politicians.

My list of 11 is headed by Larry Pennell from Brant-Haldimand. He has generously the two qualities which seem common among all those on my list: confidence and speaking ability. Mr. Pennell is a lawyer who has excelled as chairman of the House committee on privileges and elections. He can think on on privileges and elections. He can think on his feet and is a persuasive rather than a partisan spokesman. His future advance in politics is certain if he wishes to carry on. There are rumors about that he would sooner be a judge than a parliamentarian.

Jean Chretien of St. Maurice-Lafleche is a good French-speaking match for Mr. Pen-nell. He is only 30 years of age. Not as urbane as Mr. Pennell, he demonstrates the same confidence in speech and the same knowledgeability.

More Radical

Chretien is more radical than Pennell, and he impresses one as being in sympathy with Maurice Sauve, the minister of forestry, rather than with the Guy Favreau group of Liberals. Chretien had the very rare distinc-tion of getting his own bill passed through Parliament to convert TCA into Air-Canada.

Pauline Jewett of Northumberland handles the twin disadvantages of being a woman and having a PhD degree as though they were assets. Her rather moderate intellectualism causes some cavilling among her colleagues, at least amongst those who think she is too erudite for a woman. Miss Jewett is becoming a politician very quickly. She now popularizes her lectures with language that is easily understandable to the rural folk of Northumberland County and to her fellow MPs. Redistribution will cut up her constituency and it isn't the most Liberal one in Ontario. If she survives another election, I would guess that sheer abil-ity will give her a promotion.

Maurice Moreau of York-Scarborough is a young man of much energy. Politics mean total effort to him. He slugs at committee work and speaks whenever he can in the House. He has expert knowledge in his fields of geology and engineering.

The fact he must wrestle with the most populous constituency in Canada has led him, like his predecessor Frank McGee, to take an unusually wide interest in House work. He needs the publicity, as did Mr. McGee.

Most Genial

The most genial of all Liberal backbenchers seems to be Gene Whelan, the chunky farm boy from the Paul Martin country. Mr. Whelan gives great delight in playing the country hick but his rural drollness deceives for a very short time.

Floyd Francis of Carleton would seem to be one of the most restive Liberal back-benchers. He had frustrations before as con-troller under Mayor Charlotte Whitton. Further, his work in the civil service was of a fairly high level. His seriousness is so intense that it may interfere with his advance-ment. Politicians get uncomfortable with a leilow whose attitude always anticipates. Armaggedon. Despite this drawback, Mr. Francis is one of the most substantial Liberal backbenchers.

It is worth repeating that these Liberals are been in the poorest vantage point in the House of Commons. They have pushed temselves forward. It is rare in politics the House of Com that anyone in your own party insists that

B.C. OUSTER OF JAPANESE BLACK MARK'

TORONTO (CP) - Prim Minister Pearson said Sunday night that Canada had no reason to be proud of foreing persons of Japanese origin to move from the British Columbia coast during the Second World War.

"That action by the Canadian government - though taken under the strains, and fears and pressures of war-was a black mark against Canada's traditional fairness and devotion to the principle of human rights", Mr. Pear-son said at the official opening of the Japanese-Canadian Cultural Centre here.

Almost 22,000 persons of Japanese descent were forced to leave British Columbia when its coastline was declared a protected area in

Texas Gulf Refutes Land Claims

NEW YORK (UPI)-Clau NEW YORK (UPI)—Claude 625,151.

Q. Stephens, president of William Zeckendert Jr., Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., said in a statement released Sunday that the claim of two Canadian mining companies to Ontario mineral land, on which Texas Gulf has made a new discovery of rich ore, was "compleaely without merit."

Leitch Cold Miner Ltd. and Ltd

Leitch Gold Mines Ltd. and Mastordon Highland Bell Mines Ltd. filed suit in a Toronto court Friday claiming ownercourt Friday claiming owner-ship of some lands in the Tim-mins area, including the dis-covery in Kidd Township made by Texas Gulf.

Stephens said that Texas 216 Gulf "entered into a mining Co exploration agreement with Leitch dated Feb. 1, 1963, providing for further investigation by Leitch of certain areas in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec over which Texas Gulf had previously conducted geophysical survey.

"The areas concerned were clearly delineated on a plan at-tached to the agreement. Texas Gulf's recent base metal dis-covery in the township of Kidd, near Timmins, Ont., is not situated in any of the areas subject to the terms of such agree ment. Accordingly, neither Leitch nor Mastodon has, under any such agreement, any interest in Texas Gulf's discovery."

A few hours after the Court action to force the accident he was flown to Nanaimo court of revision to reconvene and hear his appeal on land tax assessments has been started by R. E. "Doc" Nicoll of Van-couver and Gabriola Island.

Nicoll has been tangling with the court of revision since February when it disallowed his appeal on tax assess-ment on a 73-acre breakwater ment on a sacre breakwater isle-off Gabriola Island. It refused to hear his case on the grounds that he was in contempt of court for making certain statements to the press and radio prior to the hearing. Nicoll denied responsibility. QUASHED

He subsequently contested he court's ruling before the B.C. Supreme Court and had the decision quashed.

Nicoll then asked for a new hearing, but it was turned down by chairman Jack Barsby who is now on a six-month tour of Europe.

The appellant has now applied for a writ of mandamus asking the Supreme Court to complete the court of revision hear his case.

Canadian Colt Falters Behind Quick Quadrangle

NEW YORK (CP)-Racing's triple crown for three-year-olds eluded Canadian-bred Northern Dancer Saturday when Paul Mellon's Quadrangle won the 96th Belmont

The Dancer, odds-on favorite of the record Bel-mont-day crowd of 61,215 following his great vic-tories in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, had to be satisfied with third place when the smallest starter in the race, Roman Brother, spurted past him in the stretch to take second.

Northern Dancer and jockey

Bill Hartack chalked up one ac-complishment. They defeated arch-rival Hill Rise and his rider, Willie Shoemaker. The blocky little bay colt from E. P. Taylor's Winfields Farm near Toronto was six lengths behind Quadrangle at the end, but a half-length ahead of Hill Rise.

Cepeda Swallows Earth In Fine Defensive Play

The ladies are invited to leave the room because there's a dirty story connected with the manner in which San Francisco Giants took Philadelphia Phillies to the cleaners.

It involves first baseman Orlando Cepeda, who not only perpetrated the play of the day Sunday but also may have turned in the play of the year.

Here's how it all came

Chris Short walked Tom Haller with the bases full and two out in the top of the 10th inning to put the Giants ahead of the Phillies, 4-3. That was the final score—but it would not have been without Cepeda. The Phils, who had led 3-0 intil the ninth, weren't quite finished yet. They put run-ners on first and third in the bottom of the 10th with two Johnny Herrnstein slashed a wicked anot to the right of first base and it had all the earmarks of a game-tying hit until Cepeda desperately flung himself at the ball. LAUNDRY CASE

The San Francisco first baseman was lying on the ground when he stopped the ball and knew he couldn't get to his feet in time to beat the streaking Herrnstein to the bag.

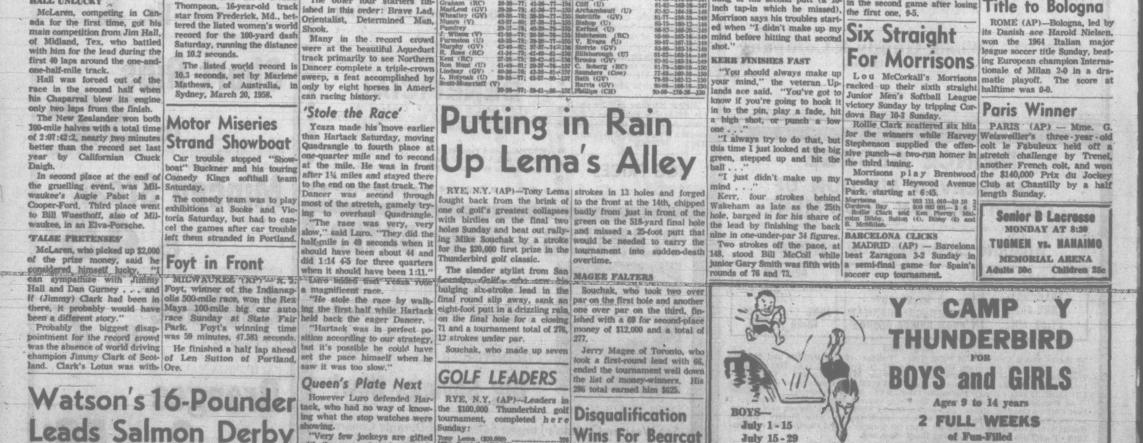

bag. So Cepeda dove head-first toward the bag, gulping nearly half an acre of real estate en-route. He was covered with dirt from eyebrows to shoe-laces when he finally got up and his uniform looked as if it had been used to mop the floor but Cepeda figured it was worth it because there was unspire Ed Vargo with his thumb in the air, signifying Herrnstein was out by half a

Christian Cowboy' Redd Harper MONDAY, JUNE 8, 1964 Ex-Victorian First Tourist of Week Aims to go 'Way Past the Moon' NIGERIA

But God whe put it there.
That was the kind of song cowboy evangelist Redd Harper sang in beautiful Beacon Hill Park Sunday afternoon and it caught the enthusiasm of a crowd of nearly 3,000 children and adults attending the annual church school and youth rally organized by Mrs. W. W. McGill.
"It was God who made a song writer out of me," smilled the fall, lean cowboy. "I open my heart to Him and the words and music just seem to flow through me."

Breezy and informal, with ready line of joices and stories, Mr. Harper hitched up h is guitar and poured out his Christion cowboy songs in a pleasing tenor voice.

The Rotary Boys' Choir, in their trim blue and gold uniforms, sprang a surprise on Cowboy Harper by singing his own song, Lord Keep Your Hand on Me, and Victoria Citadel. Rand of the Salvation Army led the singing of such popular hymns as Praise God from Whom All Blessings in the water. Think...don't sink! Be water wise.

That's pretty sound advice and it takes only a few seconds to put it to work. If everybody spent a little time thinking of the dangers of water recreation then taking action to avoid these dangers, our annual drowning to 11 would be reduced to almost nil.

whether it's in boating, underwater diving, swimming, water skiling, wading or just standing near the water, a few seconds of time used in serious thought could prevent hundreds of drownings. Often, people are either too much engrossed in the fun of water recreation to realize what the dangers are, or they're overdangers are, or they're over confident of their own abilitie and feel that safety rules don't apply to them. That's why you often hear the expression, "accidents don't just happen they are caused". The popular cause is human careles plain disregard for the con mon sense rules of safety.

Destroy Animal Parasites With New Bath or Shampoo By PENNY SAVER

Have you ever wondered how to kill an animal's fleas, ticks, lice, and odors all in one "fell swoop"?

The answer lies in specially-prepared baths and shampoos. Cat bath I found recently not only kills harmful parasites, but also protects against reinfestation if used once a week or as often as needed.

Bath contains landlin and propex and no water is needed. Apply first to ears and head to prevent fleas from crawling in ears and nose to escape. Complete application over remainder of body, according to directions.

This milky liquid is priced at 85 cents a bottle. It also grooms, adds lustre and gives a piney fragrance to the ani-

Doggy counterpart of this cat bath is a shampoo for control of fleas, ticks and lice. Price is 60 cents and preparation can also be used for general cleansing of dog.

Shampoo leaves an oily residual on dog's coat. This acts as a protection against parasites and lasts for six weeks after consideration.

Between applications of these cleaners, your pet may still host the occasional flea or tick. To offset this, brush him frequently with one of the new coat and dog flea powder brushes priced at 69 cents,

Brushes are made of plastic and the teeth are stiff and follow to allow the powder to penetrate through the animal's pat to the skin where it counts.

For best results, squeeze the brush gently as you brush riskly. Action also improves condition of the coat.

Free your pets from uncomfortable parasites. But first, call Penny at 382-3131 for name of shop selling these items.

Mrs. Fulton, a former social worker and a vice-president of the conference, was taking part in the 50-minute religious the conference, was taking part in the 50-minute religious ceremony opening the conferince. He led more than 1,500 guests assembled on the Government House lawns in a prayer for the success of the meeting.

She called the report, which dealt with philosophical and so-ciological concepts of the fam-ily from biblical times to the present, "abstract, obstruse and difficult to understand."

Mrs. Fulton, whose husband ow is British Columbia Conservative party leader, told the 350 sociologists and welfare workers attending the first ses-sion of the four-day meeting that Canadians would have to update heir thinking about the family. "Illegitimacy and juvenile de-

The words were spoken by General Dwight D. Eisenhower at the conclusion of a 90-minute CBS-TV program commemorating the 20th anniversary of D-Day. "D-Day Plus 20 Years: Elsenhower Returns to Normandy" contained a series of unrehearsed interviews with Elsenhower by Walter Cronkite, who covered the invasion as a correspondent for the United Press.

Viewers in such countries as Australia, Argentina, Japan, England and Germany watched as Eisenhower walked and jeeped on the now peaceful beaches and battlefields where he commanded the atest invasion armada in history.

a Way to Go'

There were many sidelights which embroidered the ng of the story and captured wholehearted interest.

Eisenhower told a humorous story of how the then Prime Minister Winston Churchill desired to accompany the invading asmada. He ordered the wartime leader to stay home as he was too valuable to the allied cause Churchill dared Eisenhower by saying he would sign charchin dared Eisenhower by saying he would sign as a member of the crew of one of His Majesty's ships over which Ike had no say. Luckily King George VI sent word that if Churchill went he would go and since the prime minister didn't want to take chances with the King, he didn't go. Another victory for Eisenhower.

U.S. FIGHTERS TO FIRE TO GUARD SPY PLANES

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. jet fighter planes operating over Laos were reported today to have orders to fire on Communist military installations when necessary to protect unarmed photo reconnaissance aircraft.

Two U.S. planes have been shot down in two days by ground fire from Communist forces. Officials here said their reports indicated this was fire from automatic antiaircraft guns and perhaps heavy machine-guns.

The operation of the armed escort jets over Communistheld areas of Laos indicates that the U.S. is becoming more deeply involved in the conflict there in its efforts to give assistance to the neutralist government of Premier Souvanna Phouma.

VIENTIANE (AP)—Communist groundfire knocked down the second U.S. Navy jet in two days over Laos Sunday, but the pilot was safely lifted out of the jungle.

U.S. officials hoped to continue an air search today for the pilot of the first plane, but a heavy cloud cover hung over Vientiane. The monsoon season has set in.

Both planes were shot down east of the Plaine des Jarres area, recently overrun by the Pathet Lao.

The second jet was armed and accompanying an unarmed reconnaissance plane over central Laos.

Economic Expansion Continues

NEW YORK (AP)-The U.S. business upturn entered its 40th month last week with no signs weakening.

Automobile sales and production were at record levels. Steel output was holding up well. Corporations reported high profits and paid good dividends, President Johnson took note of the economy's record-length ex-pansion in his press conference and said he found it showing new vitality that could keep it rolling through 1964 and well into 1965. He indicated he was particularly encouraged by new figures on unemployment, re-porting that the percentage of idle was down from 5.7 per ce in April, 1963, to 5.4 per cent last April, There was a gain of more than 1,000,000 new farm jobs from December to April, he Later the labor department reported that unemployment fell in May to 5.1 per cent of the U.S. labor force, the lowest jobless rate in more than four years. Total civilian employ ment rose to a record 71,100,000. PRODUCE MORE CARS of 161,360 and 4 per cent ahead of the 169,036 a year ago.

In May, the automakers set a production record for the month, turning out 725,313 cars, up 1 per cent from 715,063 a year earlier and just ahead of the previous record of 724,480 in May, 1955. The May sales record was equally impressive with dealers delivering 740,000 cars, exceeding the 717,236 cars sold in May, 1963, the previous high for the month.

With the summer slack season coming on, steel production a week ago eased only 2 per cent from the previous week. Output totalled 2,462,000 tons of ingots, a drop of 49,000 tons. For the first 22 weeks of this year U.S. production t ot a 11 e d 51,479,tons, an increase of 3.6 per cent over the 49,685,000 poured in the like period of 1963.

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp has announced that Denison Mines of Elliott Lake, Ont., has been awarded a contract to supply 1,200,000 pounds of uranium to the United Kingdom.

The contract completes the undelivered portion of the Gunnar Mines contracts with the U.K. and was awarded to Denison because it offered the greatest number of man-days of employment with its tender,

Mr. Sharp said Denison has promised to provide 158,001.5 man-days in filling the contract.

Texas Gulf Refutes Land Claims

NEW YORK (UPI)—Claude
O. Stephens, president of Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., said in a statement released Sunday that the claim of two Canadian mining companies to Ontario mineral land, on which Texas Gulf has made a new discovery of rich ore, was "completely without merit."
